

Times

VOL. III. NO. 825.

WASHINGTON, D. C., FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 19, 1896-EIGHT PAGES.

ONE CENT.

M'KINLEY AND HOBART

Nominated at St. Louis as the Republican National Ticket.

WILD SCENES IN THE HALL

When Ohio Was Reached Her Favorite Son's Nomination Was Assured-Hobart Out-stripped All the Candidates For Second Place-Fickinley's Nomination Was Made Unanimous Midst Wild Enthusiasm-How the States Voted.

St. Louis, June 18.—After a ten-hours' made, decinring their continued allegiance to the Republican party notwithstanding their eleventh National Republican Convenitude of the Republican party notwithstanding their disappointment on the silver plank. the eleventh National Republican Conven-tion nominated a ticket preordained from the first by the Ohio political managers who practically controlled the gathering and named William McKinley of Ohio and Garrett A. Hobart of New Jersey for Presiand Vice President respectively of the United States.

No effort was put forth to carry out the much-talked-of purpose of conferring the second place upon Levi Morton. Mr. Hobart went through on the first ballot with many votes to spare, just as soon as the word was passed around after McKinley had been safely landed that McKinley's had been safely landed that McKinley's friends desired the election of Mr. Hobart. The chief supporters of the four unsuccessful other candidates for the Presidency, Senator Lodge for Reed, Representative Hepburn for Allison, Governor Hastings for Quay, and Mr. Depew for Morton, came out in ringing little speeches, moving to make McKinley's nomination unanimous and president in the loval support of their and pledging him the loyal support of their spective States. When to these assurances Mr. Plattadded

When to these assurances Mr. Plattadded his personal promise of friendly co-operation, the cup of happiness of the McKinley men was full.

Mr. Depew was at his best in moving to make McKinley's nomination unanimous. He happily said that he felt he was now nominating a winner. It was quite evident he did not feel in the same frame of mind when he placed Mr. Morton in nomination, for he, most unusually for him, spoiled one of his best points. MR. DEPEW'S MISTAKE.

When leading up to what it was supposed would evoke a burst of applause for Blaine, be inadvertently substituted the name of James A. Garfield for James G. Blaine and was ignominously corrected by the by-

An amosing little slip was perpetrated by the permanent chairman, Senator Thurston, who, by the way, made a most excellent presiding officer. The incident clearly showed the way his mind was running. When nominations for Vice President were called for and Judge Fort took the stand, the chair-man introduced him as "Mr. Hobart of New Jersey." (The man whom the McKinleyites bad determined to elect.)

When the laughter this blunder occasioned called his attention to it, he adroitly passed it off by saying: "Mr. Hobart of New Jersey will now be nominated by Judge Fort." Whatever enthusiasm was lacking in the early days of the convention was supplied when the nominations were made. A more boisterous scene of yelling, plume and ban-ner waving and other manifestations of ecstatic idiocy has seldom been heard or seen than that which, for nearly half an hour occupied the convention after the somination of William McKinley. The silver bolt was largely discounted and its effect was to a great extent neutral ged by the speeches which Senators Mantle

FINANCIAL PLANK ADOPTED. The first business before the convention was the report of the committee on resolu was the report of the committee on resolutions.

The result of the roll call on the question of the adoption of the financial plank was announced—ayes, 812 1-2; noce, 110 1-2. "And the financial plank is adopted," added the chairman, amid cheere.
The rest of the platform was adopted with a ringing chorus of "ayes," there being but one solitary "no."

The chair announced that it was requested, as a question of personal privilege, that a statement prepared by certain members of this convention, be read.

"Is there objection?" he asked.
Waiting a few seconds and receiving no response, he announced.

Walting a few seconds and receiving no response, he announced.

"As a matter of personal privilege me chair will permit Senator Cannon to read the statement, and the chair asks respectful attention and perfect quiet."

Mr. Frank Cannon, the young Senator from Utah, advanced to the platform, and, with Senator Teller sitting by his side, read in ringing tones and with many gestures the protest.

When Mr. Cannon had nearly finished the

When Mr. Cannon had nearly finished the reading of the document cries of "time" and counter cries of "too, let him finish," were raised. The chair again appealed for respectful attention to the protest, which he said was nearly finished.

At his closing words, declaring that the Republican party, once the redeemer of the people, was now about to become its oppressor, a storm of hisses and groans was raised from all parts of the hall, and cries of "Down" were heard.

The chair with his resonant voice rising above the tumuit, said:

above the tumult, said: above the tumuit, said:
"The chair suggests to this convention that the Republican party in convention as-sembled need not fear any declaration"— here the outburst of cheers which lasted several minutes interrupted the speaker.

A DRAMATIC EXIT. A DRAMATIC EXIT.

When they had subsided he continued:
"And the chair further suggests, in the interests of the Republican party, that whatever is to be said within reasonable limits by those who can no longer remain in our organization ought to be listened to with respectful attention, believing that full answer to all such declarations will be made by the great majority of the American people at the polls next November." (Applause.)

The names of the signers to the protest

The names of the signers to the protest as read by the secretary were greeted with hisses, and a voice in the rear of the hall called out, "Good-bye, my lover, good-bye," as Senator Teller and his associates filed out of the ball.

The whole convention rose and yelled and waved flags, hats and fans, while the band played pathotic airs, the assemblage singing the chorus: "Three Cheers for the Red. White and Blue" to the accompaniment of the band and shouting till they were

After the exit of the bolting silver

WILLIAM McKINLEY, Jr.,

delegates the convention soon proceeded to the placing in nomination of the four Presidential candidates.

When Iowa was reached in the roll-call Baldwin nominated Senator Allison.

Mr. Baldwin said: There is one, but only one, of those whose names will be presented to this convention who can claim that there has been placed for him in history's golden urn an estimate of his character and worth made by him on whom nature stamped her royal seal. God exhibited as His greatest design of American manhood, genius, statesnamshipandpatriotism, who, now in heaven, wears a crown of deathless praise and whose great soul is a portion of eternity itself, James G. Blaine.

Blaine, writing to Garfield, said: "Then comes Allison. He is true, kind, reasonable, fair, honest and good. He is methodical, industrious and intelligent, and would be a splendid man to sail along with smoothly and successfully."

Complying with the request of the Iowa delegation, I rise to propose to this convention the nomination of him to whom this heritage was bequeathed—William B. Allison—and to ask you to make it on the Old and New Testament of Republicanism.

Allison does not believe in a tariff for revenue only, but in a tariff for protection and revenue jointly. He has always insisted that the protective system is the mightlest instrument for the development of our natural resources and the strongest agent to protect American wealth and American labor.

The great and important issue which is just now coming around the corner is the one of sound money, and we can no more dodge it than we can gravitation. In this respect the situation is easily simple, but certainly serious. A decision upon this important question must be made by this convention, and renember, gentlemen, a nation listens to catch the click of its fate.

For Senator Allison you cannot build too strong a platform for sound money, and if TO NOTIFY THE NOMINEES. List of the De'eg ites Who Will Perform the Duty.

List of the De'eg sies who will Perform the Duty.

8t. Louis, Mo., June 18.—Members of the committee to notify the nominees for President and Vice-President are as follows:

Alabama, C. D. Alexander; Arkansas, H. M. Cooper; California, Frank Miller; Colorado, boited; Connecticut, George Sykes; Delaware, Henry G. Morse, C. J. Price; Florida, Dennis Egan; Georgia, M. B. Morton, M. J. Doyle; Idaho, botted; Illinois, C. H. Degre, E. L. Wood; Indians, Hiram Browniee, Jesse Weeks; Iowa, Calvin Manning, C. M. Junkin; Kansas, Nathaniel Barnes; Kentucky, J. P. McCartney; Louisana, Walter 8. Cohen; Maine, C. E. Townsend; Maryland, William F. Airey; Massachusetts, M. V. B. Jefferson, W. J. Hale; Michigan, T. J. O'Bricn; Minnesota, Monroe Nichols, A. D. Davidson; Mississippi, W. D. Prazee; Missouri, T. B. Haughawout, B. F. Leonard; Mootana, unorganized; Nebraska, John T. Boessler; Nevada, J. H. Breckler; New Hampssuire, William D. Sawyer; New Jersey, F. W. Roebling; New York, Frank Hiscock, Lispenard Stewart; North Carolina, L. M. Bernard, John H. Hanna; North Dakots, deferred; Ohio, M. A. Hasna; Oregon, Charles Hilton; Pennsylvania, Theodore L. Flood, H. S. Denny; Rhode Island, John C. Sunborn; South Carolina, Edmund H. Deas, C. J. Pride; Bouth Dakots, Walter Smede; Tennessee, Ernest Coldwell; Texus, J. W. Butler; Utah, Lindsay Rodgers; Vermont, James W. Brock; Virginia, J. R. Browning, R. T. Hubbard; Washington, Henry J. Wilson; West Virginia, J. R. Browning, R. T. Hubbard; Washington, Henry J. Wilson; West Virginia, J. R. Browning, R. T. Hubbard; Washington, Henry J. Wilson; West Virginia, John A. Buckler; Indian Territory, Joseph R. Faltz; Alaska, C. S. Johnson.

VOTE FOR PRESIDENT.

nation listens to catch the click of its fate.

For Senator Allison you cannot build too strong a piatform for sound money, and if you place him upon it, he will see to it that the dry rot of 18 to 1 does not steal through lis stanch timbers.

He helieves that the American dollar should have some grains of sense as well as more of silver. He believes that unlimited coinage would soon lead to unlimited bank-rapitcy.

I ask you to nominate him. If you do, the people from the sand-enshrouded Maxican line to the live wire that separates us from an unborn daughter on the north, will shout as in one glorlous, glad anthem, "The old temple of Republicanism still stands. Flock to it for shelter." If you do, every keynote of the campaign will be kept at concert pitch. If you do, the White House will be used no longer as an experiment station. Official Figures Showing How the State Delegations Voted.

9	Cth. If you do, the White House will be ed no longer as an experiment station.  LODGE SPEAKS FOR REED.  Senator Lodge then rose to nominate official detailed your for President:
F	Speaker Reed. He spoke as follows:		010 10			-		13/
i	Four years ago we met as we meet pow, representatives of the great Republican		5	35	4.			1
اة	party. Prosperity was in the land. Capital was confident and labor employed. There	PER SHARE STATE	-	d			i	9
ျ	was confident and labor employed. There was the good day's wage fur the good day's	STATES.	MoKinley	Merton	Quay.	Reed.	Allison.	Cameron
e	Work, and the spirit of American enterprise		0	lië.	1	1	=	2
2	work, and the spirit of American enterprise was stirring and hold. Till Treasury was			-	0	==	<.	0
•	full, the public revenues ample for the pub- lic need. We were at peace with all the	Alabama	19	1		2
г	world and had placed a prodent hand on	Arkansas	16
h	world, and had placed a prudent hand on the key of the Pacific.	California	18
	Four short years have come and gone. Look about you now. The Treasury is	Colorado		****	****		****	****
9 -	Look about you now. The Treasury is	Delaware	7 8	*		9	****	****
	cmpty. Our credit is impaired. Our revenues	Florida	6	2
1	are deficient. We meet the public neds, not with income, but by borrowing at high	Georgia	21		2	2
8	rates and pledging the future for the wants	Idaho	*****	****
В	of the present. Business is paralyzed. Con-	Illinois	20	*		2	****	****
	fidence has gone. Enterprise has folded its	Indiana	40	1530		*	23	****
5	cagle wings and mopes and blinks in the	Kansas	20	1000			-
-11	market place. Our mills are idle and our railroads crippled. Capital hides itself and labor idly walks the streets. There is	Kentucky	26					****
2	labor idly walks the streets. There is	Locisiana	11		34	4	36
4	neither a good day's wages nor a good day's	Maine						****
31	work.	Maryland	15	17.71	*	1 0	****
1	We are gathered here to choose the next	Michigan		1000	***		***
Н	President of the United States. That we will win in the election no man doubts. But	Minnesota	18
	let us not deceive ourselves with the pleas-	Mississippl	17		1
2	ant fancy that the campaign is to be an	Missouri	34			77.75		2220
6	ant fancy that the campaign is to be an easy one. It will be a hard battle; it can-	Nebraska	10	****			****
t I	not be otherwise when so much depends	Nevada	3	3
	upon the result. Against the Republican party, representing fixed American policies,	New Hampshire		1		1.8
i I	strength, progress and order, will be ar-	New Jersey	19	25		1
1	strength, progress and order, will be ar- rayed not only that organized failure, the	New York	17	155		1-227	***
ŧ	Democratic party, but all the wandering	North Carolina		1		2/4	1	****
1	forces of political chaos and social disorder.	Ohio,	45	7.0	1000		*	1000
	We want a President who will meet this situation as Lincoln met that of 1861; with the chiefs of the Republicans about him,	Oregon	8		1000		1000
3	the chiefs of the Republicans about him.	Pennsylvania	6		38 and with party and people at his back. We want a President who, on the 5th day	Rhode Island			1	8		****
ŧ١	We want a President who, on the 5th day	South Carolina	18					****
6	of next March, will summon Congress in	Tennessec		1000
t	extra session, and, refusing to make ap- pointments or to deal with patronage, will say that all else must wait until Congress	Texas				5	8
٠	say that all else must wait until Copgress	Utah	3				3
ıt	sends to him a tarm which shall put money	Vermont Virginia	8				* in the Treasury and wages in the pockets	Washington	23		*	1		****
a	We want a President who will protect at	Washington West Virginia	12				*****	****
6	all hazards the gold reserve of the Treas-	Wiscousin	24
e	all hazards the gold reserve of the Treas- ury; who will see to it that no obligation	Wyoming	6
e	of the government is presented which is not	Arizona	6
t	paid in whatever coin the creditor chooses	Oklahoma	5		*	1	1	****
e	the nation which pays with honor borrows	Indian Territory	6					****
m	the names which page with honor borrows	Dist. of Columbia				1	i
r	Continued on Second Page.	Alaska						****
		Totale	66134	54	622.6	911	3534	-
		Totals	90174	00	0179	01/6	۵۵%	1
1	le .	a Diank four		-	-		-	_

Blank four. Necessary for choice, 454. Total number de egates present, 906.

VOTE FOR VICE PRESIDENT. Hobart Had 535 1-2 and Evans Was

His Nearest Competitor. St. Louis, June 18.—The following is the detailed vote for Vice President: Alabama—Hobart, 10; Bulkeiey, 1; Evans,

California-Hobart, 14; Bulkeley, 1; Evans

Colorado—
Connecticut—Bulkeley, 12.
Delaware—Hobart, 6.
Florida—Hobart, 5; Evans, 3.
Georgia—Hobart, 5; Evans, 21.
Idaho—
Illinois—Hobart, 44; Evans, 4.
Indiana—Hobart, 12; Evans, 16; Reed, 1;
Thurston, 1.

Thurston, 1.
Iowa-Hobart, 8; Bulkeley, 10; Evans, 5; Grant, 2; Reed, 1.
Kansas-Hobart, 20.

Kentucky-Hobart, 8; Evans, 17; De Mentucky-Hobart, 8; Evans, 17; Depew, 1.

Louisiana-Hobart, 8; Evans, 8.

Malue-Hobart, 2; Bulkeley, 2; Evans, 5; Depew, 2; Morton, 1.

Maryland-Hobart, 14; Bulkeley, 1; Evans, 1.

Wassachusetts-Hobart, 14; Eulkeley, 1;

Massachusetts-Hobart, 14; Eulkeley, 4; Evans, 12.

Michigan—Hobart, 21; Evans, 7.

Minnesota—Hobart, 6; Evans, 12.

Mississippi—Hobart, 13; Evans, 5.

Missouri—Hobart, 10; Evans, 23; Th. 3-

Missouri-Hobart, 10; Evans, 23; Th.rston, 1.

Montana-Hobart, 1 (five absent).

Nebraska-Hobart, 16.

Nevada-Hobart, 3.

New Hampshire-Hobart, 8.

New Jersey-Hobart, 20.

New York-Hobart, 72.

North Carolina-Hobart, 11-2; Evans, 201.2

0 1-2.
North Dakota-Hobart, 3; Evans, 3.
Ohio-Hobart, 25; Bulkeley, 6; Evans, 15.
Oregon-Hobart, 8.
Pennsylvania-Hobart, 64.
Rhode Island-Lippett, 8.
Bouth Carolina-Hobart, 3; Evans, 15.
South Dakota-Hobart, 8. Tennessee – Evans, 24.
Texas—Hobart, 11; Evans, 12.
Utab—Hobart, 5.
Vermont—Hobart, 8.
Virginia—James A. Walker, 24.
Washington—Hobart, 8.
West Virginia—Hobart, 3, Evans, 20; Reed,

Wyoming - Hobart, 6.
Arizona - Hobart, 6; Bulgeley, 1; Evans, 1.
New Mexico Oklahoma - Hobart, 4; Evans, 2.
Indian Territory - Hobart, 6.
District of Columbia - Hobart, 2.
Alaska - Hobart, 4.
Totals - Hobart, 535 1-2; Bulkeley, 39;
Evans, 277 1-2; Lippett, 8; James A.
Walker, 24; Reed, 3; Thurston, 2; Depew.
3; Morton, 1.

HOW MORTON RECEIVED IT.

He Herely Sald, "The Hext President Has Been Named." Hissile, Rhybeck on the Hudson, N. Y. Jane 18.—When these woof Mr. McKinley's

Levi P. Morton this evening, the governor, who has been close to the instrument all day, watching the convention proceedings, leaned back in his chair and said: "Mc-Kinley is nominated and the next Presi-

Populace Suspended Business and Read St. Louis Bulletins.

SCENES AT M'KINLEY'S HOME

Many Visitors Were Present to Receive the News With the Leading Candidate-His Evident Satisfaction at the Result-Whole Town Is Gay With Bunting and Cannon Boomed-Compile mentary Addresses Made by Citizens.

Cauton, Ohio, June 18 .- The day broke , during the day to pay their respects, and over Canton in cloudless splendor, a brisk BOOMING OF CANNON. The striking of 918 on the fire alarm bells of Canton, that being the number of delegates in the convention, and, there-fore, selected for the purpose, together with the booming of the big cannon on the bluff back of the watch factory, at 5:19 o'clock this afternoon, notified such of the people of Canton as had not followed the posted bulletins, that the National Re-publican Convention, at St. Louis, had nominated their fellowtownsman. Major

William McKinley, as its candidate for President, and then the pent-up enthusiasm which had been repressed for two or three days with more or less force, broke out, and

Every device that skill and ingenuity could produce to make a noise was brought into play, not only in Canton, but in all the cities and towns for miles around, in all of which McKiniey is a favorite, and the principle of protection for which be now stands is the abiding faith of the popula-

Steam whistles, single and in chimerbrass-mouthed calleges, emitting frightful shricks, bells, cannon and ear-piercing horns, all united to create a commotion that might have startled the man in the moon and the dwellers on Mars.

Almost as if by magic, too, the streets blossomed forth in the national colors, of designs numerous and various, bunning, flags, streamers and what-not, and every-mags, streamers and what-not, and every-where the smooth, serious face of the new candidate locked upon the multitude. Can-lon will be a thing of beauty for at least a fortnight if not a joy forever. The McKinley house was the center of attraction all day, and many residents and visitors from the surrounding towns called far into the night pandemonium reigned.

who has been close to the instrument all day, watching the convention proceedings, leaned back in his chair and said: "McKinley is nominated and the next President has been named."

There was something of an expression of disappointment in the governor's face. He sat for a moment in silence and then turning to a representative of the United Press, he said:

"The result is no surprise to me. Since the action of the national committee in regard to the contesting delegates, it has been a foregone conclusion that McKinley would be named for President."

In the convention proceedings the Governor manifested deep interest during the day.

Before the balloting for the office of Vice President was begun, he remarked:

"I can't understand the persistency with which my name was mentioned for the office of Vice President after my absolute declination. I do not want the nomination and under no cleumstanrees would I have accepted it."

The Governor seemed pleased when he learned that his name had not been presented in this connection. It is said that he explicitly informed Messrs. Platt and Depew early in the morning not to allow his name to go before the convention except for the Presidency.

Shortly before 8 o'clock Mr. Morton sent a telegram of congratulation to Mr. Mc. Kinley, and later sent a dispatch to Chauncey M. Depew acknowledging his services at 8t. Louis, in endeavoring to bring about his (Morton's) nomination for the Presidency.

The Governor, in reply to a question, said that he did not care to express his views at present on the platform adopted by the Republicans, further than to state that he thought the financial plank was excellent. "The adoption of the gold standard." he said, "showed that our party has wise counsels to govern it."

Gov. Morton expressed himself as follows when the resolt of the convention was made known:

"The outcome of the convention has been practically a foregone conclusion for a week past. Conceding that Mr. McKinley's nomithe platform continued, began to speculate upon the hour when the pent-up enthusiasm might be allowed to vent itself.

The breeze of early morning almost died away and the heat became uncomfortable after 1 o'clock. The square and other public places in the open air were descad, except by the knots of eager perusers of the bulletin boards, and a kind of hush of expectadcy settled over the place.

Among today's arrivals were Mr. William Bern, of the Brooklyn Standard Union, president of the Union League Club, of that city, and George A. Prince, a business man of Brooklyn, who will remain a few days.

"The outcome of the convention has been

"The outcome of the convention has been practically a foregone conclusion for a week past. Conceding that Mr. McKinley's nomination was already assured, the chief cause for public congratulation upon the labors of the convention is its unqualified declaration for the single gold standard.
"In my opinion no greater public danger has menaced this nation since the close of the civil war than that which impended while this context between the adherents of the civil war than that which impended while this contest between the adherents of the gold and silver policies was at issue. Now that the issue has been decided, by an overwhelming expression of the party's representatives in convention, the country's interests are more secure both at home and abroad, and the Republican party is not found wanting in the assertion of its devotion and loyalty to the welfare of the people. I expect the triumphant of the people. I expect the triumphant election of the ticket in November next and the return of the party to the control of national affairs for many years to come."

REED WISHES HIM WELL. He Wires McKinley a Message of Congratulation.

Congratulation.

Speaker Reed was away from his hotel last night until 11 o'clock, when he returned he aent the following telegram to Maj. McKinley:

"Hon. Whilam McKinley, Canton, Ohio:

"I wish you a happy and prosperous administration; happy for yourself and prosperous for the country. T. B. REED."

Mr. Reed, who is now the most popular of all the defeated candidates, took a lively, but not too enthusiastic interest in the proceedings of yesterday's convention. He spent the eventful hours of the session in his room, where he received the bulletins in the afternoon and again in the evening when the Vice Presidential issue was settled. He was in an excellent humor all day, and it is said that he disn't change countenance when he was handed the selice of the session and the selice of the set of the session of the sessio te countenance when he was handed up declaring the nomination of Mr.

McKinley.
What Mr. Reed said in those exciting Continued on Second Page.

Ivy Institute Business College, 8th and K. Our unexcelled summer course, $5.

generally they stayed to hear the bulletins being read.

over Canton in cloudless splender, a brisk breeze tempering to a comfortable degree the beams of summer sun.

At an early hour the town was astir in anticipation of the developments for which the people have been waiting for two days past with an almost feverish intensity.

As the day wore on the interest of the Cantonese deepened, approaching anxiety. They througed the hotel lobbies and other public places where convention bulletins were displayed, they feverishly discussed the probabilities of a nomination today, and as the discussion and consideration of the platform continued, began to speculate upon the hour when the pent-up enthusiasm might be allowed to vent itself.

The breeze of early morning almost died away and the heat became uncomfortable after 1 o'clock. The square and other public places in the open air were desc a ed, except by the koots of eager perusers of the bulletin boards, and a kind of husb of

of New York; Mrs. John N. Naylor, of East Liverpool; wife of the owner of the great pottery works there, and alternate at iarge from Ohio; Mrs. Paul Schull, Somerset, Pa.; Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, Clevelandi
Mrs. Captain Heistant, Mrs. George B.
Frease, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Day,
Mrs. Buckingham, Mrs. W. K. Miller, Mrs.
Barriet Saxton, Miss Grace McKinley,
Miss Eva Phillips, Miss Julia McCormick,
Miss Halett, Miss Fisher, and Miss Coop.
The scene in the house was impressive and interesting throughout the afternoon.
Telephone bulletins were read by Mr, Sam Saxton, nephus of the Major, and commented on by him, and the little knot of companions gathered about him.
Those included Hon. John Russell Young and Murat Halstead, the veteran news-

Those included Hon. John Russell Young and Murat Halstead, the veteran newspaper writers; Gen. R. H. Hastings, representative of the press associations, and a few local friends. The platform was received over the wires at the house and read with much interest.

There was a brief delay while the delegates were being polled; nor could the slightest evidence of nervousness be decerned as he stood with the roll call in his hands. Just previous to the beginning of the roll call, Major Goodspeed, of Columbus, a life-long friend of Major McKintey's, arrived at the bouse and joined the party in the library.

the party in the library.

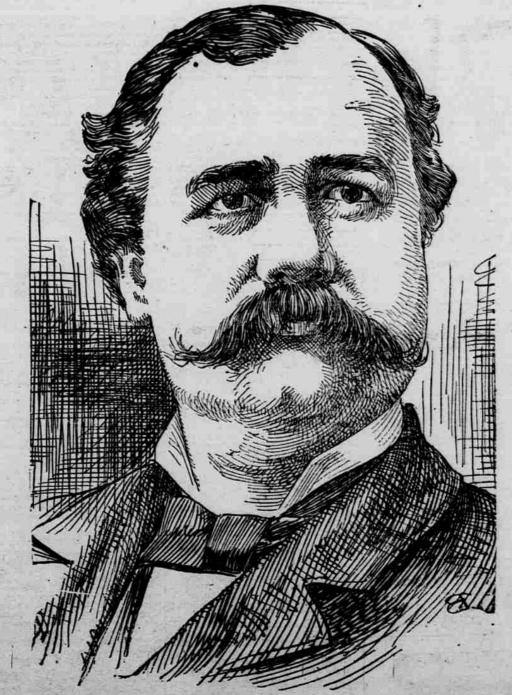

The crowd in front of the house had been augumented during the afternoon by friends and neighbors until, at that hour, several sources were gathered on the lawn. They applianded the appearance of a large pie-ture of the candidate, which was raised against the front of the adjoining residence, just as the calling of the roll of States was begon. During the progress of the voting Major McKinley flushedsome what, and he watched it closely, comparing it with the figures that he had made up for the roll. The vote of New Hampshire apparently was a surprise, and he said: "That must be a mis-

The telephone service was so clear and Continued on Fourth Page.

GARRET A. HOBART,

Republican Candidate for Vice President.

Republican Candidate for President.